Managing Self: Ready for Learning

 Extended Abstract	When I can follow instructions quickly and quietly. When I do not have to be reminded of class expectations. When I help others to remember class expectations.
 Relational	When the teacher claps, you 'stop, look and listen'. When you sit up nicely and wait for the teacher. When you are quiet and listen to the teacher. When you do your work thoughtfully and quietly.
 Multistructural	When you sit beautifully on the mat. When you put your hand up. When you listen. When you aim your eyes at the teacher. Do what you are asked straight away.
 Unistructural	When you are sitting still. When you are sitting with your arms and legs folded. When you keep still. When you look at the teacher.
 Prestructural	When I need help to sit still. When I need help to listen.
